We keep working, so that your company can continue to work.

All of us experiencing a time that challenges us every day.

COVID-19 determines our actions - and thus also all of our internal processes. There is a lot of uncertainty. What's next? We at HCC take various measures so that we can continue to look after you ideally. Wherever possible, we work in the home office. Business trips and personal conversations have been replaced by telephone contacts or web conferences. This also applies to internal meetings. We keep the business going and are still available for you as usual.

Many of our products are used in industries that needs technical support. That's why it is important to us that our technical support is still available to you. We do our very best not to leave you alone during this critical time. We look forward to seeing you again, hopefully soon.
